Magna Grecia - Salento

Magna Graecia (Megalē Hellas) refers to the coastal areas of southern Italy which were colonized by various ancient Greek city-states from the 8th to 5th centuries BCE.

A land full of history

Otranto - Salento

Otranto Cathedral (Italian: Duomo di Otranto; Basilica Cattedrale di Santa Maria Annunziata) is a Roman Catholic cathedral in the Italian city of Otranto, dedicated to the Annunciation of the Virgin Mary. The cathedral was consecrated in 1088.

A land full of history

The Baroque splendour of Lecce

After decades of instability, the defeat of the Ottoman Empire in the Battle of Lepanto in 1571 led to a period of relative calm in Puglia. Having lain dormant for so many years, the region's cultural and artistic flame sparked back into life and the construction of utilitarian fortifications was replaced by the building of magnificent churches and dazzling noble palaces. Nowhere was this more true than in Lecce.

Florid, exuberant and minutely detailed, Lecce's Baroque style is also compact and neat without any bombastic overtones that one often associates with architecture of this period.
